HAWTHORNE'S CLOSE.

Hawthorne's third fortnight of racing closed Saturday with a hurrah. The card offered was a very ordinary one but that seemed to cut no figure with the race-going folks, as was shown by the enormous crowd that was in attendance. It must have numbered fully 10,000 for there was not a vacant seat in the grandstand and the betting ring was packed to suffocation.

The afternoon was hot and sultry. Hardly a breath of air was astir, and as the track was lightning fast it was perfect weather for record breaking. The class of horses carded to start, however, was not made up of record-breakers as a rule, and no new world's time marks were made. The track record, though, at three-quarters of a mile, which is 1:12½, was equaled by Our Gertie, who won in a canter, and could possibly have run a half second faster and tied the record had she been pushed out to the limit.

A new track record for one mile and a half was made by Harry Nutter. He went the distance in 2:33½, which clips three full seconds off the old mark.

The Our Gertie race and a steeplechase over the fall course were the principal features, and both events brought forth hearty tokens of appreciation from the big half-holiday crowd.

Our Gertie closed a slight favorite at 8 to 5 over Benneville and May Beach, who were each 2 to 1 and it is safe to say that it was the public money and not the "wise fish" that backed the filly, as the "knowing ones" to a man strung with Benneville. The race was a very pretty one to look at. May Beach, Our Gertie and Benneville got away together and the struggle was always between them. May Beach and Benneville, racing like a team, stepped the first quarter in 23 seconds and the half in 47½ seconds. All this time Jenkins was rating Our Gertie cleverly in behind. He knew, and so did every one else that had any horse sense, that the pace was altogether too fast and neither of the two in front could possibly stand it to the end. Neither of them did and when the stretch was reached, both were in distress. Jenkins then called on Our Gertie and the handsome daughter of Salvator—Columbine responded like a lady and at the sixteenth post had the race in hand. From there to the wire the filly simply loafed and considering that she then ran in 1:12½ it looks reasonable to state that, had she been asked to do her best, she would probably have set a new mark for the distance.

Six started in the cross-country event, but mistakes and accidents were numerous and two only legitimately finished. They were My Valentine and Chenier, but Clifton B. got third money, as Porter remounted him after he fell and finished. Gypcever was the first one of the lot to go wrong. He ran out of the course at the thirteenth fence. The others took the fourteenth all right enough, but at the fifteenth and last is where the trouble was. Here Princess Murphy refused and Buenerges and Clifton B. fell. This left My Valentine and Chenier to fight it out, which they did, and the former got the decision by two lengths. Ray rode the winner and he handled her to perfection, winning a well-earned compliment for himself.

The mile and a half race in which Harry Nutter took three seconds from the track record was run with a flourish. Plauton was favorite for the race and led for nearly a mile and a quarter when he collapsed and stopped almost to a walk, eventually finishing fourth. Harry Nutter was giving away great lumps of weight to everything in the race and Everett had the mount. The pair seem to understand each other and together won a handsome race. Everett waited until the stretch was reached before he made his move and then he stole a march on the other boys.

For the first time this year on local tracks two-year-olds were asked to go a mile. This was the distance of the last race and Merito, conceding weight to all the others, won as she pleased. This filly went to the post a 3 to 5 favorite and she never gave her backers one second in which to worry. She lay second to Clara Wooley to the stretch and then cantered by her as though she was tied.

The first and third were cheap selling races at three-quarters of a mile. Miss Stanton at 7 to 1 won one and Cheesemite at 16 to 5 captured the other.

HAWTHORNE RULINGS.

The judges at the Hawthorne track have made the following official statement and ruling in the case of jockey Bisping:

On August 9th we suspended Jockey T. Bisping for his ride on the horse Benneville in the third race of that day; distance six furlongs. Off in front in a field of fast sprinters, he gradually dropped back, and when nearing the half-mile pole, running easily alongside of Goebel, having the inside position, without any apparent cause he commenced pulling his horse up and back and continued doing so until he was four or five lengths back of the field, then took his horse to the outside and in spite of a finish entirely out of line with his style and methods on previous occasions when trying to win, finished second.

In explanation he said he had to pull up to keep from getting in a pocket. As a matter of fact there was no truth in his statement. His horse at the time was well out from the rail and there was plenty of room for him to have gone on had he so desired. This is corroborated beyond any question of doubt. When he pulled his horse up and continued doing so, we were of the opinion the horse had broken down. A previous performance of the horse at Hawthorne, and subsequent races as well, indicate he had a good chance to win but for his ride, which we are satisfied was for a purpose.

Bisping's riding in the past has not been above suspicion, and in our investigations he has always assumed the responsibility for the rides respectively.

His suspension will continue indefinitely, and we further recommend to the License Committee of the American Turf Congress that his license as jockey be revoked forthwith.

JAMES H. REES,
HARRY KUEHL.

Judges.

In addition they have decided that Mr. Wood Hoffman is fined $100 and his stable is suspended from all privileges for a period of thirty days for a misrepresentation of facts in connection with the ruling against Willis K. Duffy, trainer.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Col. W. S. Barnes has decided that his crack filly, Lady Elite, has done enough for this year. She has many valuable stake engagements next year and will be retired until the time arrives to prepare her for them.

Carruthers & Shields bought King Carnival before his start for the Michigan Stakes at Detroit Saturday. The speedy filly Coralie changed hands also. A. Brown & Co. becoming her new owners.

J. E. McDonald's promising colt, Carrollton, died at Saratoga recently. He was a half-brother to Reusselaer and was deemed a coming star.

Subscriber, Chicago.—Place odds against Our Gertie August 16 at Hawthorne, 2 to 5.

FUTURITY WINNERS.

The Futurity of 1899 will pass into turf history next Saturday. It is a very open race this year. No Potomac, His Highness, Morello or Domino has cropped up in the 2-year-old division of the season to fill the position of universally recognized ante-post favorite. Indeed so open in appearance is the race that it is now deemed probable that fully thirty youngsters will go to the post to contend for the glory and pelf of the most valuable 2-year-old race of the American turf.

The first Futurity was run in 1888. Quite a number of good two-year-olds were out that year. Chicago took a particular interest in the race because a comparatively dark one was given the "grand prep" at Washington Park and shipped east in the confident belief that he had a chance to win second to none of those likely to start. That was "Uncle" Jim Gray's fast Faustus colt, Galen. Secretary Brewster took the greatest interest in the colt's preparation and always believed he would have won had he been taken east by express over the quick and level New York Central route instead of by slow freight over the rough and tiring Baltimore and Ohio. Galen, with much more weight up than he had to carry in the race, had worked five furlongs at Washington Park in a minute flat and three-quarters in 1:14. It seemed good enough for any company and cost those on the inside large slices of their reserve capital. The colt arrived at the track greatly fatigued by his journey, and the day before the race was in such a high fever that he had to be given a steam bath to reduce his temperature. Even at such disadvantage he ran a gallant third to such grand racehorses as Proctor Knott and Salvator. The majority of those who witnessed the race thought Galen would have won with a good jockey up. Enoch Turner rode him, and at his best poor Turner was not much as a rider. When the horses turned into the straight run for the winning wire Galen had a good lead and was going like the wind. The magnitude of the prize, almost in hand, probably rattled Turner, who, for no apparent reason, suddenly took Galen across from the inside to the outside of the track. In doing this he lost, as was afterward computed, fully thirty feet. At the finish Proctor Knott beat Salvator a half length, while on the other side of the track Galen was lapped on. Goodwin's Guide says, "one length between second and third," but Goodwin's Guide is wrong. There was no daylight between the three and had Turner kept a straight course with Galen, there is no reason to doubt that Jim Gray would have taken in the $40,900 that went to the first horse instead of Sam Bryant. But then, Sam is a good fellow himself and had use in his business for that $40,900 that his blaze faced "Old Prece" brought home that day.

The second Futurity was more valuable than the first, it being worth $54,550 to the winner. Chaos. It was like this, a year of mediocrity so far as the two-year-olds were concerned. Chaos, a son of Rayon d'Or was the property of the Pennsylvania capitalist and politician W. L. Scott and a fairly good but never a high-class racehorse, St. Carlo who ran second was better.

The Futurity of the next year was notable for one thing and that was, that it brought the greatest sum of money to the winner that any Futurity has realized. When Mr. Belmont's majestic colt, Potomac, cantered past the judges the easiest of winners he also enriched his owner's bank account to the tune of $67,675, quite a tidy sum of money to have lying handy. As Potomac's stable companion, Masher, appropriated second money, it was quite a good Futurity for Mr. Belmont and his clever trainer, Jimmy Rowe. Potomac was a grand colt and worthy to win such a glittering badge of honor.

Gideon & Daly led away the winner of the fourth Futurity when their crack colt His Highness, sire of last year's crack Jean Beraud, swept past the winning mark with the crushing impost of 130 pounds in the saddle. The race that year was worth $61,675 to the winner. Since then it has only once been above the $50,000 line. The race that year was sensational in many ways. There was a number of slashing good two-year-olds out, and when it is noted that such good ones as His Highness, Huron, Yorkville Belle, Dagonet, Lamplighter, Osric, Merry Monarch, Tammany and Lester were in the field of twenty-two starters, it can be readily perceived that it was an exceptionally high-class aggregation, one sure to evoke an extraordinary measure of enthusiasm. To add to this Mr. Corrigan had secured the aid of the courts to enable his fine colt Huron to start. Huron had been declared by Mr. John J. Carter acting as agent for Belle Meade farm, where the colt was bred. Mr. Corrigan contended Carter had no authority for this action and that it was void, but the Coney Island Jockey Club held that Huron was properly declared out and not eligible to start. So Mr. Corrigan secured an order from one of the New York courts directing that Huron should start, and start he did and ran second to His Highness. But he was ignored in the placing at the finish and Yorkville Belle was placed second and Dagonet third. How Mr. Corrigan sued for second money, and after much litigation failed to win his case is one of the well known episodes of turf history.

One of the greatest racehorses that ever stood on iron was next in the line of succession to Futurity honors. People who go to the races in Chicago do not need to be told what a phenomenon of speed, stamina and courage Morello was. Probably the greatest race ever run in America was that in which, when as a 3-year-old he conceded lumps of weight to a splendid field in the Wheeler Handicap at Washington Park and with 117 pounds up ran a mile and a quarter in 2:05. It was certainly a greater performance than that of Salvator when he scored the same time in his memorable match with Tenny Morello was a sick horse when he won the Futurity, but that did not prevent him from running away from Lady Violet and fifteen other starters and winning off by himself in the fastest time that had then ever been recorded for the event. The Futurity that year only realized $40,450, but Frank Van Ness thought it was a plenty.

The flying black wonder, Domino, with his invincible habit of taking in everything in sight in his two-year-old form, added the Futurity of 1893 to the wonderful list of victories that made him the winner of more money than any horse that has ever run in this country. It was of the net value of $49,350.

Fillies had been knocking at the door for this race from the beginning, but it was not until 1894 that one succeeded. The Butterflies winning for lucky Gideon & Daly from an indifferent field. The quality of the field, however, does not detract from the merit of her victory, for on other occasions she demonstrated her high class. Forty-eight thousand seven hundred and ten dollars was the return for the Futurity that year.

In 1895 the splendid colt Requit was first with the California champion Crescendo second. It was a rich plum that year, worth $53,190. Since then the successive victories of Ogden, L'Alouette and Martimas are of too recent occurrence to justify comment at length. The value to Ogden was $43,790, to L'Alouette $34,290, and to Martimas $36,610.

Winner—Br. f, by Patron—Orianna.
Post 4 minutes. Start fair. Won hand ridden and with something left; second and third were driving to the limit. Miss Stanton, well ridden, ran a fine race. She came from behind with a well-timed rush in the stretch and was going away at the finish. Clarence T. seemed to be winning easily at the eighth post, but collapsed when the pinch came. Duty finished stoutly under punishment, and would surely have beaten Clarence T. for the place in a few more strides. Alice B. seems to be a counterfeiter. She had no excuses and ran a poor race. Abusive is a full brother to Abuse. He ran a fair race, but nothing extra. He was bumped and interfered with several times.
Scratched—13815 Nokomo, 110; 10754 Amelia T., 105; 13978 St. Francis, 107.
Overweights—Duty, 4 pounds.

Winner—B. f, by Salvator—Columbiene.
Post 4 minutes. Start good. Won well in hand; second and third driving to the limit. Our Gertie was at her best today and won as she pleased. Jenkins had a stout hold of her head and was pulling to Benneville at the finish. Had the filly been pressed out she probably would have broken the record. Benneville had no excuses. Contrary to his last two races Dean hustled him to the front as soon as possible. He and May Beach set a terrific pace and they naturally tired when the pinch came. The race was always between the first three, who far outclassed the others.
Scratched—14058 Canova, 111; 14116 Goebel, 100.
Corrected weights—May Beach, 99.

Winner—Ch. f, by Russell—Chee-estraw.
Post 8 minutes. Start good. Won driving and out to the last ounce; second, third and fourth driving also. Cheesemite was extremely lucky and her win was a scratch. Jenkins got away flying, saved ground at every turn and outfinished Tully at the end. Brown Dick was much the best and should have won. He got all tangled up in the barrier and was bumped and jostled often. He was running strongest at the end, but was inclined to bear in and Tully was afraid to punish him for fear of causing interference and getting disqualified for a foul. Edith Kline ran a greatly improved race. So did Nellie Fonso, under a good ride. Deceive must have a longer route to do his best. Nettle, as usual, bolted on the stretch turn. Falomacita, heavily played, could not outrun a fat man.
Scratched—13978 Ramlet, 105.
Overweights—R. solia, 2 pounds; Edith Kline, 1.
Cheesemite, place, 6 to 5; show, 1 to 2. Brown Dick, place, 3 to 1; show, 7 to 5. Edith Kline, show, 3 to 1. Falomacita, place, evens; show, 1 to 2.

Time, 4:20.
Winner—Ch. f, by Tenny—Miss Nailer.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won driving and out to the last ounce. My Valentine won principally through Ray's jockeyship. The boy was not on the best horse by any means, but he rode an excellent race. He saved his horse in the first two times around the course and skillfully made his move at the right time. The filly was tired at the end and had to be hard pushed to beat Chenier. Weights cut a great figure with the latter who is an excellent fencer. He never made a tumble the entire route. Clifton B. and Boanerges both fell at the last jump. The former was remounted and finished in time to get third place. Boanerges was beaten when he fell. Considering the heavy impost he carried Johnson used very poor judgment in riding him to the front in the early part of the journey. Gypceiver was going well in hand and had a royal chance when he went out of the course. Neither boys nor horses were hurt in the fall.
My Valentine, place, evens; show, 1 to 2. Chenier, place, 3 to 1; show, 4 to 5. Clifton B., show, 7 to 10. Boanerges, place, 7 to 10; show, 2 to 5.

Winner—Ch. c, by Harry O'Fallon—Vena N.
Post 8 minutes. Start good. The first three were under keen pressure. Harry Nutter ran a high-class race. Considering the amount of weight he was giving away and the time of the race his performance was phenomenal. Everett rode the colt to perfection. Fatherland improved suddenly and after being heavily backed showed up to great advantage. Croesus came thundering down the stretch at a terrific pace. He would have been second in a few more strides. When Plantain stopped he stopped all over. The route was too far and the pace too much for him.
Overweights—Donation, 1 pound.

Time, 12, 24, 49, 1:02, 1:15, 1:41.
Winner—B. f, by Wadsworth—Modjeska.
Post 4 minutes. Start good. Won hard held. It was a long, hard drive for the place. Merito is a fine filly and outclassed the others. There was never a spot in the race that she did not look all over a winner. No matter how fast the pace is or how long the route may be. Merito is always right there. Florizar had all sorts of bad racing luck. He was very roughly treated on the first turn and had a lot of ground to make up down the backstretch. With clear sailing he would have given Merito an argument. Clara Wooley weakened at the head of the stretch with her mouth wide open. There was nothing to it outside of the first three.
Scratched—14115 Mission, 103; (14089) Unsightly, 111; 14115 Tommy O'Brien, 103.
Overweights—Ravenwood, 2 pounds.
